H. S. NOTES.

Last Wednesday night one of the most important basketball games of the season was played. The Payette team won from the O. H. S. five by a score of 25 to 23. The game was a fast and exceedingly rough one from the first whistle to the last.

By no means should Ontario have lost this game as the team work was much better than Payette's. But only a few fouls were called by the referee on the Payette boys and when our fellows noticed it they played the same way and were penalized. The line-up was:

Payette: Loughery, Right For-

Dairy Cows Make Great Record Produces Real Money for Owner

C. W. DeBoer and Pete Tensen are the proud owners of great producing dairy herds. They are both Hollanders and as expected cling to their Holstein cows, says W. W. Howard, the county agricultural agent.

"Each of these herds are filled with young cows, but the record for the past nine months is so remarkable that even with the young cows they are far above the average. Mr. DeBoer's herd has a daily average for nine months of 35.93 pounds of milk and 1.26 pounds of butter fat. Mr. Tensen's herd does not run as high as Mr. DeBoer's herd, but 13 out of 20 cows are heifers. Mr. Tensen's cows daily average for the nine months tested show 30.4 pounds milk and 1.09 pounds of butter fat.

"Some of the individual monthly records of these herds would scarcely be believed, if they were not made by an official tester. Nine two year old heifers in Mr. Tensen's herd averaged 39.5 pounds of butter fat during January, while three three-year

As a preliminary to this game the second teams of Payette and Ontario played an amateur game. It was exciting and full of ginger. The final score was 19 to 11 in Payette's favor.

On Saturday night there were two games played on the local floor.

Baker Loses.
The Baker High School team played the O. H. S. team but were no match for our fellows. From the start the game was ours and at the end of the first half the score was 16 to 1. In the last half the Baker boys picked up a little and made 15 points. The final score was 25 to 16 in favor of the O. H. S. team.

Preceding this game the Vale girls played the O. H. S. girls. This game was not as fast or as well played as the game at Vale last week but was a good one. Our girls were handicapped by the absence of Ruth Griffin (forward) and early in the game Sarah Painter (forward) was taken out on account of a sprained knee.

The final score was 12 to 17 in favor of the Vale girls.

Friday night the team went to Weiser to meet their old time rivals, the Weiser team. The boys reported this as being one of their hardest games this season. They won from the Weiser fellows by a score of 29 to 26.

Last Saturday night the Nat Club gave a reception in the Moore Grotto in honor of J. Will Prater former principal of the High school. Cards were enjoyed by those present until a late hour.

The preliminary to the Declamatory contest, which is to be held this month, was held at the H. S. auditorium last Thursday afternoon.

The committees for the H. S. dinner which is to be held next month were named last week, and every one is looking forward for a big success.

The next meeting of the Literary Society will be held one week from Friday, March 9th.

THE "BURNING BUSH."

A Wonderful Plant Whose Vapor May Be Set Aflame.

The "burning bush," which is known to botanists as the Dicranum fraxinella, is regarded as one of the most wonderful plants in the world. This plant is native to western Asia, though it is now found in some gardens of the temperate zone. In connection with the dictamnus it is rather remarkable that the species is common where the incident of Moses and the burning bush is said to have occurred.

A great many people who grow the plant are quite unaware of its strange habits. As a matter of fact, the dictamnus secretes a fragrant essential oil in great abundance, which, botanists say, is produced in especially large quantities by the flower stems, in warm weather volatilizing so that the air surrounding the plant is impregnated. Further, this vapor is highly inflammable, and if a naked flame is brought near to the plant the fumes at once take fire with a most singular result. The whole plant is surrounded with crackling, shooting flames reddish in color and leaving a highly aromatic odor behind them. The burning bush does not seem to be injured in any way by the fire, for the flames do not actually come into contact with the plant itself.

Several conditions are needed if the experiment with the burning bush is to be a success. Thus it is essential that the air should be very dry and warm; also that there should be practically no wind. The best effects are secured only just after the opening of the flowers. It will be realized that these conditions cannot always be relied upon. A plan has recently been devised by means of which the inflammable nature of the vapors given out by the dictamnus may be shown with startling effect.

A stout plant of the burning bush is raised in a pot. At the time when the flowers are just reaching perfection the plant is placed in a glass jar or a case. This is closely covered for some hours before the time of the experiment. On removing the cover a light is held over the plant, when there is at once a tremendous outburst of flame. So great may be the rush of fire that the experimenter is cautioned to keep his face away from the top of the jar, as a serious burn is not by any means out of the question. After an interval of an hour or so with the jar or case closed up the experiment may be repeated with similar results.—Denver News.

The Versatile Manchurian Farmer.

In the early fall in Manchuria the natives undergo a sort of magic change from farmer to bandit. It seems something of a psychological somersault—one day a plodding farmer, the next a highwayman. After the tall kaoling, or giant millet, is cut, and escape is not so easy over the bare plains, another clap of the hands, and, lo, a peaceful farmer once more. It is not only the farmer who plays this exciting game; many another staid member of the community has his little fling. Some even combine their roles, differentiating according to the seasons. With the oriental's disregard for conditions, a man is often a bandit, merchant and magistrate all at once.—Alice Tisdale in Atlantic.
